

ADJECTIVE

What is an adjective ?

An adjective describes a noun or a pronoun, i.e to add something to the meaning of a noun or pronoun. In other words, It is a qualifying word used to qualify the noun/pronoun.

The yellow sunflower looked beautiful. (The word “yellow” describes the “sunflower” which is the noun)

Most of the Adjectives usually go before the nouns they modify, and they are known as Attributive Adjectives.

Example :-

- She is a nice girl. (Here the adjective nice modifies the noun girl and goes before it.)

Adjectives that come after the noun must follow a linking verb (am, is, are, was, were etc) and they are known as the Predicative Adjectives. The predicative adjective modifies the noun that comes before it.

Examples :-

- The girl is sad.
- The boy is intelligent.

Adjectives that come after the noun without any linking verb, they are known as Postpositive Adjectives.

Examples :-

- Nothing useful.
- Something spicy.

Kinds of Adjectives

1. Adjectives of Quality

These adjectives are used to describe the nature of a noun or are used to express the shape, size, and color of a person, place, and thing is called an adjective of quality. They give an idea about the characteristics of the noun by answering the question “what kind”.

Examples :-

- You are looking gorgeous.
- He was a clever man. (Attributive Use- ‘clever’ is used before ‘man’)
- His house is beautiful. (Predicative Use- ‘beautiful’ is used after the linking verb ‘is’)

2. Adjectives of Quantity

These adjectives help to show the amount or the approximate amount of the noun or pronoun. These adjectives do not provide exact numbers; rather they tell us the amount of the noun in relative or whole terms.

Example - some, enough, sufficient, many, much, a few , little, etc.

Examples :-

- I had many friends in my college life.
- Most of the boys were absent from the class.
- Have some tea.

3. Adjectives of Number

These adjectives are used to show the number of nouns and their place in an order.

It is of Two kinds:

(i) Definite :- That describes the exact number of people or things. They are a set of Cardinal and Ordinal Numbers.

Cardinal Numbers - One, Two, Three, Four, etc.

Ordinal Numbers - First, Second, Third, Fourth, etc.

Examples :-

- He has three cars.(Cardinal)
- He is the first boy in the class.(Ordinal)

Note :- “The” article is used before Ordinal Adjectives and not before Cardinal Adjectives.

(ii) Indefinite :- Those Adjectives that don't show the exact number of people or things. Like few, some, most, many, all, etc.

Examples :-

- A few number of people join the tracking.

- I have solved many Mathematics problems.

4. Demonstrative Adjectives

These adjectives are used to point out or indicate a particular noun or pronoun by expressing its position as near or far. Like- This, That, These & Those. It is used just before a Noun or Pronoun.

Examples :-

- This book is mine.
- That plate is hot.

Note :- If This, That, These & Those are followed by verbs immediately then they are known as Demonstrative Pronouns.

Examples :-

- This is my book.
- That is your shirt.

5. Interrogative Adjectives

These adjectives are used to ask questions about nouns or in relation to nouns, Like - Where, What, Which and Whose.

Examples :-

- Which book did you read last night?
- What is the best way to learn English?

6. Distributive Adjectives

The Adjectives are placed before a singular noun or a pronoun and are used to refer to a member of a group as individuals. They are 'Each, Every, Either and Neither'.

Examples :-

- Each boy takes the test.
- Every Book of Pinnacle Publications is the best in its category.

7. Proper Adjectives

Proper Adjectives are the adjective form of proper nouns. They derive themselves from the proper nouns.

Like: 'America' is a Proper Noun but 'American' is a Proper Adjective.

Examples :-

- I love Indian Culture.
- I want to have Chinese food.

8. Possessive Adjectives

An adjective used to place before a noun and modifies the noun to demonstrate the possession or ownership to a particular person or thing. Like - my, your, his, her, its, our, their, and whose.

Examples :-

- Virat is my favourite player.
- This is my book.
- Where is your laptop?

Order of adjectives in English :- Generally, the adjective order in English is-

1.	Quantity or number
2.	Quality or opinion
3.	Size
4.	Age
5.	Shape
6.	Colour
7.	Proper adjective (Nationality, place of origin, or material)
8.	Purpose or qualifier

For example :-

- I love that big, old, green car that is parked at the end of the street. (Order of adjectives- Size, age, and colour)

- My sister adopted a beautiful, big, white bulldog. (Order of adjectives- Quality, size and colour)
- The five, little, silver spoons are on the table. (Order of adjectives- number, size, and proper adjective)
- An amazing, heart-shaped, red balloon was in the sky. (Order of adjectives- Quality, shape and colour)

Degrees of Adjectives

There are three degrees of adjectives.

1. Positive Adjective :-

It tells us about the quality of the person/place or thing, and does not make a comparison. It also talks about equality/ inequality by using the structure 'as + positive degree adjective + as'.

Examples :-

- She is an intelligent girl.
- This exam is as difficult as the last one.

2. Comparative Adjective :-

It describes a noun by comparing it with other nouns. It is generally formed by adding the suffix -er at the end of the positive degree or by using more before it. They are usually followed by 'than'.

Examples :-

- Deepak is wiser than Sachin.
- She is better than you.

3. Superlative Adjective :-

It is used to make comparison between three or more things. It is generally formed by adding the suffix -est at the end of a positive degree or by using most before it. We use "the" before the superlative degree.

Examples :-

- She is the most intelligent student in the class.

Some Examples :-

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
Big	Bigger	Biggest
Great	Greater	Greatest
Short	Shorter	Shortest
Old	Older	Oldest
Large	Larger	Largest
Happy	Happier	Happiest
Heavy	Heavier	Heaviest
Lucky	Luckier	Luckiest
Beautiful	More beautiful	Most beautiful
Horrible	More horrible	Most horrible
Good / Well	Better	Best
Bad / Ill	Worst	Worst
Little	Less	Least
Much / Many	More	Most
Far	Farther	Farthest

IMPORTANT RULES OF ADJECTIVES:

RULE 1 :- In comparative degree, (adjective + er) + than is used. "Than" is used in case of comparison between two persons or things and an adjective of comparative degree will be used with it.

Example :-

- He is taller than his sister.

RULE 2 :- If a choice has to be made between two persons or things, the comparative degree will be used. Article "the" will be used before the comparative degree and "of the" will be used after the comparative degree.

The structure will be –

(the + Comparative degree + of the.....)

Examples :-

- Hisar is the better of the two cities.
- Sachin is the better of the two players.

Similarly, if the choice is to be made between more than two things or persons, the superlative degree will be used.

The structure will be–

(the + Superlative degree + of the.....)

Examples :-

- Hari is the best of all the batsmen in the Indian cricket team.
- English is the easiest of all the languages taught in the school.
- Pinnacle is the best of all the institutes in the country.

RULE 3 :- If two qualities to be compared are of the same person or thing, then we don't use the comparative degree. The comparative degree is used for comparison between two different things or persons. Instead of using the comparative degree, "more + positive degree" will be used.

Examples :-

- Rahul is luckier than hardworking. (Incorrect)
(Two qualities of the same person (Rahul) are being compared (his luck and his hard work). So, the comparative degree can't be used.)
- Rahul is more lucky than hardworking. (Correct)

RULE 4 :- If an adjective is to be used between "as.....as" and "so.....as" the adjective should be in positive degree. "As.....as" is used to show that something is equally good or bad.

Example :-

- Hisar is as hot as Ganganagar in May.

"So.....as" is used to show something is not as good or as bad.

Example :-

- Bhopal is not so developed as Delhi.

Note :- This rule is also applicable to adverbs.

Example :-

- Geeta danced as gracefully as Lata.

RULE 5 :- Article "the" is used before the superlative degree as it becomes definite.

Example :-

- Ludhiana is the most polluted city of Punjab.

RULE 6 :-

In case of comparison in the same group, use "other" with "no/ all/ any". "Other" can't be used in the case of superlative degree.

- Puneet is taller than any boy in the class. (Incorrect)
- Puneet is taller than any other boy in the class. (Correct).
- Maths is more interesting than any other subject.

TC @freepdfhall

- January is colder than any other month of the year.

RULE 7 :- In comparative degrees, “than” is used. But for adjectives ending in “ior”, “than” is not used; instead “to” is used.

List of such adjectives-

Superior, inferior, junior, senior, prior, anterior, posterior, exterior, interior, etc.

Examples :-

- He was junior than me in college. (Incorrect)
- He was junior to me in college. (Correct)

RULE 8 :- The following adjectives are non-gradable adjectives and hence do not have comparative and superlative degree.

Supreme, impossible, absolute, ideal, everlasting, eternal, triangular, square, round, major, minor, complete, entire, chief, extreme, excellent, minor, ulterior, universal, unique, last, final, unique, excellent, perfect, unmatched, unparalleled, dead, full, free.

Examples :-

- The presentation was perfect. (Correct)
- Your presentation was more perfect. (Incorrect)
- His presentation was the most perfect. (Incorrect)

Perfect means flawless. When we are already saying something is perfect it means it is flawless, so “more perfect” and “most perfect” can’t be used.

Examples :-

- Darjeeling tea is the most superior tea in India. (Incorrect)
- Darjeeling tea is superior to any other tea grown in India. (Correct)

RULE 9 :- If two adjectives are being used for the same noun or pronoun then the adjective should be in the same degree.

Examples :-

- India is the greatest and tolerant country. (Incorrect)
- India is a great and tolerant country. (Correct)

RULE 10 :- For directions and some other adjectives, there is positive and superlative degree only. There is no comparative degree.

East	Easternmost
North	Northernmost
South	Southernmost
West	Westernmost
Up	Uppermost
Bottom	Bottom-most
Left	Leftmost
Right	Rightmost

RULE 11 :- The same word can be an adjective in a sentence and a noun in another sentence. For certain words that are mostly used as nouns, if they are used as an adjective in a sentence, they can’t be used in the plural form.

Example :-

- The tables cloth was washed, ironed and spread on the table. (Incorrect)

“Table” is a noun but here it is used as an adjective. So tables can’t be used but “table” will be used.

RULE 12 :-

Special note: Prefer and preferable

- It is used in comparative degrees only.
- We use the preposition “to” with it, not “than”, although it is in the comparative degree.
We do not use “more” with prefer.
- With “prefer”, “to” can be replaced with “rather than”.

Examples :-

- I prefer walking to running. (Correct)
- I prefer walking than running. (Incorrect)

- I prefer walking rather than running. (Correct)

RULE 13 :-

The following words may be used both as adjectives and adverbs:

Fast

- Modern man leads a fast life. (Here the adjective fast modifies the noun life.)
- He drove the car fast. (Here the adverb fast modifies the verb drove.)

Half

- Each of them has half ownership in the property. (Here the adjective half modifies the noun ownership.)
- She was half crying, half laughing. (Here the adverb half modifies the verbs crying and laughing.)
- She is half Spanish, half French. (Here the adverb half modifies the adjectives Spanish and French.)

Straight

- Don't expect to get a straight answer from her. (Here the adjective straight modifies the noun answer.)
- She went straight home. (Here the adverb straight modifies the verb went.)

Just

- The train just left. (Adverb)
- He arrived just in time. (Adverb)
- God is just. (Adjective)

Late

- The engagement ceremony is in the late evening. (Adjective)
- He arrived late. (Adverb)
- She worked late. (Adverb)

Low

- We are low on the money supply. (Adjective)
- Her voice was low. (Adjective)
- She turned the gas down low. (Adverb)
- The helicopter flew low over the trees. (Adverb)

Clean

- He is very clean in his habits. (Adjective)
- We want to play the game clean. (Adverb)

Adjectives ending in 'ly'

The following words can be used only as adjectives and not as adverbs:

beastly, costlly, cowardly, deadly, friendly, likely, brotherly, kingly, leisurely, lovely, lively, womanly, princely, scholarly, silly, ugly and unlikely.

- She offered some friendly advice. (Here the adjective "friendly" modifies the noun advice.)

To make an adverb from these adjectives, we use an adverb phrase.

- She offered some advice in a friendly manner/in a friendly way.
- He behaved in a cowardly manner.

With verbs relating to our senses (sight, smell, taste, hear and feel) an adjective is used and not an adverb.

Examples :-

- The food tastes badly. (Incorrect)
- The food tastes bad. (Correct)
- The child behaved badly at the party. (Correct- Adverb will be used as behave is not related to senses)
- It feels coldly. (Incorrect- Feel is related to senses. Use cold)
- He replied coldly to my question. (Correct)

RULE 14 :- When two or more adjectives are used and they take different prepositions in such a case we should use appropriate prepositions for them.

Example :-

- The Darjeeling tea is superior to but cheaper than the Himalayan tea.

RULE 15 :- The words “comparatively/ preferably/ relatively” are not used with the comparative degree. Always use positive degree with such words.

Example :-

- Mr. Sinha is comparatively better than Mrs. Sinha. (Incorrect)
- Mr. Sinha is better than Mrs. Sinha. (Correct)

RULE 16 :- “Enough” is used after the positive degree of an adjective and before the infinitive form of a verb.

Example :-

- Navya is smarter enough to handle these types of situations. (Incorrect; use positive degree with enough)
- Navya is smart enough to handle these types of situations. (Correct)

RULE 17 :- When “worth” is used as an adjective, it is used after the noun and before a gerund form of the verb.

Example :-

- There are many places worth visiting in India.

RULE 18 :- To express the parallel increase or decrease, use the following structure:

The + Comparative degree + ----- + the + Comparative degree

Examples :-

- The more you want, the more you get.
- The more you practice, the better you become.

RULE 19 :-

To express the gradual increase or decrease, use the following structure:

(a) ----- + get / become + Comparative degree + and + Comparative degree + -----

(b) ----- + get / become + more + and + more + Positive degree + -----

Examples :-

- She is getting younger and younger day by day.
- Paras is becoming more and more handsome day by day.

RULE 20 :- Take note of the following structures regarding adjective degrees.

Structure: When there are two or more adjectives in comparative or superlative degree, the forms with ‘er / est’ are written first. Then we write the forms with ‘more / most’.

Examples :-

- Virat is the most diligent and humblest player in the world. (Incorrect)
- Virat is the humblest and most diligent player in the world. (Correct).

RULE 21 :- In case of two different degrees, we should write them with their complete structures.

Examples :-

- The lady is more beautiful but not so humble as her husband. (incorrect).
- The lady is more beautiful than but not so humble as her husband. (correct) (we need to write ‘than’)

RULE 22 :- Confusing adjectives

Many – Much

Use “much” with quantity/collective nouns and singular nouns i.e uncountable nouns. Use “many” with number/plural nouns/Countable Nouns.

Examples :-

- Geeta doesn’t have much food.
- Chitra doesn’t have many friends.

Few – A Few-The Few.

“A few” represents a positive quantity, but it can only be used with countable nouns. (i.e some or a smaller number)

“Few” represents a negative quantity or shortage. (i.e not many/almost none)

"The Few" represents a specific set of smaller numbers. "The few" means not many but all that is available.

Examples :-

- Julian has a few friends although she is new in the city. (i.e some friends)
- Julian has few friends, although she has been in the city for two years. (i.e not many/almost no friends)
- The few public gardens that we have are not maintained properly.(i.e Less in number but certain)

Little – A little – The little

Like "few" and "a few", "little" and "a little" represent negative and positive quantities.

Always use "a little" with uncountable nouns. The word "little" expresses a negative quantity (i.e not much) and the word "a little" expresses a positive quantity.(i.e 'some'- a small amount)

"The little" represents a specific quantity that is certainly present. The Little means not much but all that is available.

Examples :-

- There is a little sauce left for you to eat with the bread.(i.e some sauce)
- There is little hope of his survival as his head was nearly crushed in the accident.(i.e almost no hope)
- The little milk that he had was spilled by the cat. (i.e some milk in fixed quantity)

Farther – Further

"Farther" (root word far) is always used for distance, it refers to a greater physical distance, a distance that has been measured.

"Further" (think further) means advancement. Further is defined as something that is additional or more.

Examples :-

- How much farther is Rohtak from Hisar?
- I couldn't walk any farther that day.
- Further topics will be covered next week.
- Please wait for further instructions.

Last – Latter – Latest

"Last" is the opposite of 'first', "the latter" is the opposite of "the former" and "the latest" means the 'most recent'. "Later" means a point in time that is subsequent to the current moment.

Examples :-

- Read the first and the last paragraphs today.
- Of the two choices, I prefer the latter.
- The last question was out of the syllabus.
- The former teacher was better.
- The latest innovations are mind-blowing.
- The later you come, the better it is.

Late – lately

"Late" can be an adjective or an adverb that means after the correct time.

Examples :-

- I'm not hungry because I had a late lunch. (Adjective)
- I was late for the exam. (Adverb)
- He slept late and missed his first class. (Adverb)

"Lately" is an adverb that means the same as 'recently'.

Example :-

- I haven't studied a lot lately.

Hard – hardly

"Hard" can be an adjective or an adverb.

Examples :-

- She's working hard to finish the project by tomorrow. (hard is an adverb meaning working intensely)

"Hardly" has a completely different meaning. It means "almost not."

Example :-

TG-@freepdfhall

search on TG-@freepdfhall

- We have a poor connection, I can hardly hear you. (I almost can't hear you)

Nearest – Next

"Nearest" is closest in distance. "Next" means the next in order.

Examples :-

- Where is the nearest vegetarian restaurant?
- The next six months will be the hardest to survive.
- The next chapter is a very simple one.
- Who is next in the queue?

Some - Any :-

"Some" is used in 'affirmative/positive sentences before both countable plural nouns and uncountable nouns, whereas "Any" is used for question or negative sentences before both countable plural nouns and uncountable nouns.

Examples :-

- I want some bread.(uncountable nouns)
- I want some books.(countable plural nouns)
- I don't want any bread.(uncountable nouns)
- I do not have any books.(countable plural nouns)

Elder-Older :

"Elder" is used to denote the person who is more in age and is in blood relation, whereas "Older" is used to denote someone/something of higher age in a comparison. "Older" is a comparative term, i.e something is older than something else. Older can be used for blood relations also.

Examples :-

- He is my elder brother.
- Friendship, the older it grows the stronger it is.

Common-Mutual :-

"Common" is used to denote the thing which can be shared by many while "mutual" means exchanged or reciprocal and can't be shared.

Answers with Explanations:-

Spot The Error

Sol.1.(b) Replace "most" with "more". For comparison, comparative degree is used.

Sol.2.(b) Replace "expensivier" with "more expensive". The comparative degree of "expensive" is "more expensive".

Sol.3.(b) Replace "larger" with "largest". Here, a comparison is made among all the oceans on Earth, so the superlative degree will be used.

Sol.4.(a) Replace "more" with "most". As the comparison is made among all the exams which have ever been taken.

Sol.5.(d) no error.

Sol.6.(b) Replace "farther" with "further". "Farther" is used in terms of distances while further means something additional.

Sol.7.(a) Replace "few" with "a few". Few is used for negative quantity, it means almost none.

Sol.8.(c) Add "in" after "skilled". When two or more adjectives are used in the same sentence, we use appropriate prepositions with them.

Sol.9.(b) Replace "hardly" with "hard". Hardly means almost not at all.

Sol.10.(a) Replace "than" with "to". The adjective "superior" takes the preposition "to" with it.

Sol.11.(d) no error.

Sol.12.(b) Replace "than" with "to". The preposition "to" is used with "prefer".

Sol.13.(b) Replace "the most" with "a". No superlative and comparative degree is used with some adjectives like perfect, absolute, unique etc.

Sol.14.(b) Remove "a" from part (b). The determiner is used only with the first adjective when two or more adjectives are used for the same noun.

Sol.15.(a) Replace "dozens" with "dozen". The words like "dozen/billion/trillion etc." are used in the singular form when a definite numeral adjective is used before them.

Sol.16.(d) no error.

Sol.17.(c) Remove "other" from part (c). "Other" is not used with the superlative degree.

Sol.18.(a) Add "other" after "all". As the comparison is being in the same group.

Sol.19.(d) no error.

Sol.20.(b) Remove "comparatively" from part (b). The words "comparatively/ preferably/ relatively" are not used with the comparative degree.

Sol.21.(b) Replace "taller" with "tall". A positive degree adjective is used with "as ... as" and "so ... as".

Sol.22.(b) Replace "most east" with "easternmost".

Sol.23.(b) Remove "most" from part (b). As "complete" is a non gradable adjective, no comparative and superlative degree can be formed with it.

- Sol.24.(a) Remove "comparatively" from part (a). The words "comparatively/ preferably/ relatively" are not used with the comparative degree.
- Sol.25.(d) no error.
- Sol.26.(a) Replace "hundred" with "hundreds". The counting words like 'hundred, thousand, million, billion' are used in plural form when there is an indefinite number.
- Sol.27.(b) Replace "friendly" with "in a friendly manner". As "friendly" is an adjective and an adverb is required so "in a friendly manner" is the appropriate term.
- Sol.28.(b) Replace "most perfect" with "perfect". As "perfect" is a non gradable adjective, no comparative and superlative degree is used with it.
- Sol.29.(d) no error.
- Sol.30.(a) Replace "hardly" with "hard". "Hardly" means almost no.
- Sol.31.(b) Replace "smarter" with "smartest". Here the comparison is being done with all the boys of the school. Hence, superlative degree will be used.
- Sol.32.(a) Replace "common" with "mutual". "Mutual" describes the reciprocal respect each individual has for the other. While "common" is used to denote the thing which can be shared.
- Sol.33.(a) Replace "enough strong" with "strong enough". As "enough" is used after the positive degree of an adjective.
- Sol.34.(a) Replace "more brave" with "brave". As "enough" is used after the positive degree of an adjective.
- Sol.35.(b) Replace "mutual" with "common". Here, "common" represents the meaning of the group's collective enjoyment of pizza while "mutual" means reciprocal.
- Sol.36.(b) Replace "wiser" with "more wise". When two qualities of a person are compared, the structure used is: "more/less + Positive degree + than + Positive degree".
- Sol.37.(d) no error.
- Sol.38.(a) Remove "other" from part (a). "Other" is used when comparison is done between the same group but Switzerland is not the city of India.
- Sol.39.(d) no error. The adjective 'worth' is used after the noun it qualifies.
- Sol.40.(a) Replace "colder" with "coldest". Two same degree adjectives are connected by "and".
- Sol.41.(b) Replace "high" with "higher". The structure "The + Comparative + S + V + ----- + the + Comparative degree + S + V" is used.
- Sol.42.(c) Replace "more and more weak" with "weaker and weaker". The comparative degree of "weak" is "weaker".
- Sol.43.(b) Replace "polite" with "politely". Here, polite is an adjective but the sentence needs an adverb.
- Sol.44.(d) no error.
- Sol.45.(b) Remove "more" from part (b). No comparative degree is used with preferable or prefer.
- Sol.46.(b) 'Of' does not follow a definite numeral adjective. So, "one thousand aspirants" will be used in place of "one thousand of aspirants".
- Sol.47.(b) Replace "later" with "latter". "Latter" refers to the second of two items or individuals while "later" represents the time that comes after the present moment.
- Sol.48.(b) Replace "than" with "to". The adjective 'elder' takes the preposition 'to' after it.
- Sol.49.(a) Replace "further" with "farther". For distance, "farther" is used.

Sol.50.(c) Replace "former" with "first". The former and latter are used when we talk about two things.

Sol.51.(c) Here, the climate of Delhi is compared with the climate of Mumbai. So, 'that of Mumbai' will be the right answer.

Sol.52.(d) no error.

Sol.53.(b) Remove "most" from part (b). As "ideal" is a non gradable adjective, so more/most will not be used with it.

Sol.54.(a) Replace "a few" with "the few". For definite plural countable nouns, "the few" is used.

Sol.55.(a) Replace "fewer" with "less". As "few" is used for countable nouns but milk is an uncountable noun so 'less' will be used.

Sol.56.(b) Replace "another" with "other". Another means one more or additional while "other" means a person or thing that is different from the one already mentioned.

Sol.57.(d) no error.

Sol.58.(c) Replace "somebody" with "anybody". "Any" is used for negative and interrogative sentences.

Sol.59.(b) Replace "white long wooden beautiful" with "beautiful long white wooden". The order of adjectives is written as - opinion, size, description, age, shape, colour, origin, material and purpose.

Sol.60.(a) Replace "usually" with "usual". Usually is an adverb which means generally. However, we need an adjective here before the noun - "problems". Thus, "usual" will come.

Sol.61.(b) Replace "one another" with "each other". For two people, each/both/either is used. For many people, any/one/none is used.

Sol.62.(b) Replace "eldest" with "elder". There are only two sisters. For two things/person, comparative degree is used. While for more than two, superlative degree is used.

Sol.63.(b) Replace "education" with "educational". Both "education" and "loans" are nouns while "educational" is an adjective.

Sol.64.(a) Replace "more better" with "better". Double comparatives should not be used.

Sol.65.(c) Usage of "another" is incorrect. Use "other".

Sol.66.(a) Replace "worse" with "worst". Here, we are talking about the "Chinese stock market" among all the stock markets in the global market. Thus, a superlative degree will be used.

Sol.67.(a) Replace "similarly" with "similar".

Rule : With certain adjectives, if we add "ly" they become adverbs.

Sol.68.(b) "comparatively lower" is incorrect. Use "lower" only. Double comparatives should not be used.

Sol.69.(c) Replace "much nice" with "better". The comparative degree should be used here.

Sol.70.(a) Replace "best" with "well". "Well" is an adverb and "good" is an adjective.

Sol.71.(b) Eliminate "most". "Fastest" is sufficient. Two superlative or comparative degrees cannot be used together.

Sol.72.(b) Use "not". "There has not been" will be used.

Sol.73.(b) Eliminate "most". "Strongest" is sufficient. Two superlative or comparative degrees cannot be used together.

Sol.74.(a) "Finalized" is incorrect. Use "finalizing". In the process represents continuous tense of action, thus, "ing" form of the verb will be used.

Sol.75.(b) Eliminate "more". "Better" is sufficient. Two superlative or comparative degrees cannot be used together.

Sol.76.(d) No error.

Sol.77.(d) No Error.

Sol.78.(a) "Utmost" is incorrect. Use "outermost". "utmost" means extreme extent/amount. "outermost" means one that is furthest from the centre.

Sol.79.(a) Replace "further" with "farther". Farther – Further "Farther" (root word far) is always used for distance, and "further" (think furthermore) means advancement.

Sol.80.(b) Replace "luckiest" with "luckier". While making comparisons between two things the comparative degree is used and not the superlative degree.

Sol.81.(c) With "junior", preposition "to" is used. In comparative degrees, "than" is used. But for adjectives ending in "ior", "than" is not used; instead "to" is used.

Sol.82.(a) Songs are countable nouns. So, "more than" will be used in place of "much than".

Sol.83.(c) Use "any other man of this village".

Sol.84.(a) "Lovingly" should be replaced with "loving".

Rule : Few words such as: be, become, turn, grow, keep, prove, make, get and verbs of sensation (smell, sound, taste, feel, appear, look, seem etc.) are modified by adjectives and not adverbs. Here, appear is used. Thus, an adjective "loving" will be used.

Sol.85.(d) No error.

Sol.86.(a) In negative sentences, "some" is not used. "Any" is used. Replace "some" with "any" in part (a).

Sol.87.(a) Replace "the most precious of all metals" with "more precious than any other metal".

Rule : If different things of the same variety are compared, "any other" is used to exclude one from the others.

Sol.88.(a) Replace "no less" with "not less".

Sol.89.(b) Eliminate "all the more". We never use two comparative degrees together.

Sol.90.(c) Replace "much too heavy" with "too heavy". Use of "much" and "too" together makes the sentence superfluous.

Sol.91.(d) No error.

Sol.92.(c) Replace "more tall" with "taller". Comparative form of tall is "taller. Thus, instead of "more tall", taller will be used.

Sol.93.(d) No error.

Sol.94.(b) Replace "usually" with "usual". "Usually" is an adverb which means generally. However, we need an adjective here before a noun - "problems". Thus, "usual" will come.

Sol.95.(d) No error.

Sol.96.(c) Replace "a most" with "the most". We use "the" before superlative degrees.

Sol.97.(b) Replace "most others" with "most other".

Sol.98.(c) Replace "voluntary" with "voluntarily". Here, "given" is a verb. We need an adverb to modify it.

Sol.99.(a) Replace "easily" with "easy". For "two wheelers", we need two adjectives of the same degree. Thus, we will use "lightweight" and "easy".

Sol.100.(a) Replace 'as good' by "as good as".

Rule : If an adjective is to be used between "as.....as" and "so.....as" the adjective should be in positive degree.
