

ADVERB

What is an adverb ?

An adverb is a part of speech that provides greater description to a verb, adjective or another adverb. Some adverbs can also modify a phrase, a clause or a whole sentence.

Example :-

- Sunita runs (Verb) slowly (Adverb)
- Arun is very (Adverb) tall (Adjective).
- They finished the book very(Adverb) quickly(Adverb).
- They met me exactly(Adverb) at(Preposition) the spot.
- They visit the temple, regularly (Adverb)

Adverbs answer the following questions-

How - badly, beautifully, angrily.

When - yesterday, today, last week

Where - here, there, everywhere

How often - daily, regularly, never

To what extent - almost, completely

Kinds of Adverb :-

Adverbs may be divided into the following classes

- (1) Adverbs of Time
- (2) Adverbs of Place
- (3) Adverbs of Frequency
- (4) Adverbs of Manner
- (5) Adverbs of Degree or Quantity
- (6) Adverbs of Affirmation and Negation
- (7) Adverbs of Reason
- (8) Relative Adverbs
- (9) Interrogative Adverbs
- (10) Exclamatory Adverbs

(1) ADVERBS OF TIME :-

An Adverb of time, shows the time or moment of doing the work i.e if we want to add the information of “When” , we use Adverbs of Time.

Adverbs of Time include today, yesterday, late, ago, now , then, soon, before, daily, already, formerly, lately, never, since etc.

Examples :-

- He will write a letter today.
- I went there yesterday.
- He arrived late.
- We will now begin to sing.

(2) ADVERBS OF FREQUENCY :-

An adverb of the frequency shows the frequency with which the task is done, i.e if you want to add information regarding 'how often', we use the adverb of frequency.

Adverbs of Frequency include again, never, ever, often, seldom, once, twice, frequently, always, etc.

Examples :-

- The postman called again.
- He often makes mistakes.
- She seldom visits me.
- He came once to see me.
- He told me twice.
- The boy frequently comes unprepared.

(3) ADVERBS OF PLACE :-

An adverb of the place shows the place where the task is being done or has to be done, i.e if you want to add information regarding 'where', we use the adverb of place.

Adverbs of Place include here, there, everywhere, in, out, up, backward, away, within etc.

Examples :-

- Come here.
- Go there.
- The pet dog followed his master everywhere.
- The doctor is out.
- Please, come in.

(4) ADVERBS OF MANNER :-

An adverb of the manner shows the manner in which the task is done, i.e if you want to add information regarding 'how' or 'in what way', we use the adverb of manner.

Adverbs of Manner include clearly, soundly, bravely, thus, so, well, hard, agreeably, beautifully, sadly, gladly, scholarly etc.

Examples :-

- Divya writes clearly.
- Slowly the old man was laid down.
- The man slept soundly.
- The Indian Army fought bravely.

(5) ADVERBS OF DEGREE OR QUANTITY :-

An adverb of the degree shows the degree/extent to which the task has been done, i.e if you want to add information regarding 'how much' or 'to what degree/extent', we use the adverb of degree.

Adverbs of Degree or Quantity include any, quite, rather, pretty, partly, too, enough, altogether, no better, so, fully, almost, very etc.

Examples :-

- You are quite wrong in this matter.
- I am rather busy.
- She is pretty good at handling conflicts with her seniors.
- The man is good enough for the purpose.

Note :- (Adverb 'enough' is always placed after the word which it modifies.)

(6) ADVERBS OF AFFIRMATION AND NEGATION :-

An adverb of the affirmation/negation is used in a sentence to confirm or deny the action of a verb.

Some Adverbs of Affirmation are definitely, surely, truly, etc. and some adverbs of negation are no, never, not etc.

Examples :-

- Surely you have committed a mistake.
- He will certainly come here.
- I do not know him.

Note :- An Adverb of negation should not be used with the words that are negative in meaning, like- seldom, nowhere, nothing, hardly, scarcely, barely, unless, until, lest, etc.

Examples :-

- They seldom do not come here. (Incorrect)
- They seldom come here. (Correct)
- He hardly does not study to pass the exams. (Incorrect)
- He hardly studies to pass the exams. (Correct)

(7) ADVERBS OF REASON :-

An adverb of reason shows the reason behind doing the particular task. We use the adverb of reason if we want to add information regarding 'why'.

Adverbs of Reason include therefore, hence, etc.

Examples :-

- The weather was bad; therefore, the flight was delayed.
- He missed the bus; therefore, he arrived late to work.
- He didn't prepare for the exam, hence he failed.

(8) RELATIVE ADVERBS :-

The Relative adverbs are used to connect, relate or join the two sentences. The relative adverbs "where," "when," and "why" provide additional information about a place, time, or reason.

Examples :-

- That was the time when I was at home.
- I remember the house where I was born.

(9) INTERROGATIVE ADVERBS :-

The adverbs that are used at the beginning of an interrogative sentence to ask questions are called interrogative adverbs. These are “why, where, when, how”.

Examples :-

- When did you go to bed yesterday?
- How did you come inside the gate?
- Where did you get the money?
- Why is your dress always dirty?

(10) EXCLAMATORY ADVERBS :-

The Exclamatory Adverbs express the feelings associated with the action. The adverbs “what” and “how” are used in exclamations and so are called Exclamatory Adverbs.

Examples :-

- How wonderful the scenery is!
- What a cute baby!

FORMATION OF ADVERBS :-

Adverbs are formed in various ways by adding or changing the adjectives by the use of suffixes or prefixes.

TYPE 1 : Adverbs of Manner are formed from adjectives by adding ‘ly’.

Examples :-

- clever – cleverly
- wise – wisely
- kind – kindly
- foolish – foolishly
- quick – quickly
- beautiful – beautifully

This does not mean that when “ly” is added to all the adjectives they become adverbs.

Students commit errors by making words that do not even exist, such as fastly.

- ‘She spoke fastly’. This is incorrect. The correct usage will be : ‘she spoke fast’.

Note :-

Miser, friend, niggard, and coward are such nouns where we commit the mistake of taking the adjective form as the adverb form. Note the given table below and keep in mind.

Noun	Adjective form	Adverb form
Coward	Cowardly	in a cowardly manner
Niggard	Niggardly	in a niggardly manner
Miser	Miserly	in a miserly manner
Scholar	Scholarly	In a scholarly manner
Friend	Friendly	in a friendly manner

Example :-

- He behaves miserly. (Incorrect)

‘Miserly’ is supposed to describe how he behaves, so an adverb will be used. Thus the correct sentence will be:

- He behaves in a miserly manner.

TYPE 2 : When the adjective ends in ‘y’ preceded by a consonant, we change ‘y’ into ‘i’ and add ‘ly’.

Examples :-

- heavy – heavily
- happy – happily

TYPE 3 : When the adjective ends in ‘le’, we simply change ‘e’ into ‘y’ in making adverbs.

Examples :-

- Probable — probably
- double — doubly

TYPE 4 : We also find two adverbs that go together after being joined by the conjunction “and”.

Examples :-

- (a) Out and out He is out and out an honest person. (beyond all comparison)
- (b) Over and over She reads Rabindranath Tagore over and over. (repeatedly)
- (c) Off and on He comes here off and on. (irregularly)
- (d) Once and again I warned him once and again of the impending danger. (repeatedly)
- (e) Far and near His reputation spread far and near. (everywhere)
- (f) Over and above Over and above being hard-working, he is honest (besides)
- (g) Again and again I asked him again and again if he had completed his task. (repeatedly)

TYPE 5 :

In a few cases, some adverbs are the same in form as the corresponding adjectives. They are sometimes used as adjectives and sometimes as adverbs.

Example :-

- | | |
|--|---|
| • Adjectives: He is quick to take offense. | Adverbs: Run quick. |
| • Adjectives: He is the only child of his parents. | Adverbs: You can only dream of heaven. |
| • Adjectives: We have enough food to last a week. | Adverbs: She sings well enough . |
| • Adjectives: There is much truth in his sayings. | Adverbs: The patient is much better today. |
| • Adjectives: He is no better than a fool. | Adverbs: He knows better than to quarrel. |
| • Adjectives: He spoke in a loud voice. | Adverbs: Don't talk so loud . |
| • Adjectives: Sarthak is our fast bowler. | Adverbs: Sarthak can bow fast. |
| • Adjectives: She lives in the next flat. | Adverbs: When I next see her, I shall speak. |
| • Adjectives: He went to the back entrance. | Adverbs: Go back to your place. |
| • Adjectives: This is a hard problem. | Adverbs: He works hard . |
| • Adjectives: The boy is the best in this class. | Adverbs: He behaves his best at school. |
| • Adjectives: He is an early riser. | Adverbs: We started early on our way. |
| • Adjectives: The teacher has a high opinion of his students. | Adverbs: Always aim high . |

TYPE 6 : The following adverbs have two forms with different meaning”

1. FREE - Without cost or payment.

- I gave the books free of cost.

FREELY - not under the control of another i.e. independent to do anything.

- You may speak freely.

2. LATE - after an expected time.

- I have to work late tonight.

LATELY - in recent times.

- Lately, I have been worried about my future.

3. HIGH - Elevated position or great value.

- The bird flew high into the sky.

HIGHLY - Esteemed manner, extremely, greatly, etc.

- This book is highly recommended.

4. HARD - With a lot of effort.

- He is working hard to complete the task.

HARDLY - Almost not at all.

- I can hardly believe that.

5. NEAR - Close

- She lives near my house.

NEARLY - 'In a close manner' or 'almost but not quite'

- He is nearly exhausted.

POSITION OF ADVERBS :-

1. Adverbs of manners: well, quickly, carefully, calmly, etc. are generally placed after the verb or after the object if there is one. They generally come at the end of the sentences, but sometimes they go in the mid-position in the sentences where the adverb is not the most important part of the sentence.

Examples :-

- It is raining heavily.
- The bus is moving slowly.
- He speaks Spanish well.
- She does her work carefully.
- He quickly finished his work and ran out.

2. Adverbial Phrases of place and time: here, there, everywhere, then, yet, today, next Wednesday, respectively, are usually placed after the verb or after the object if there is one.

Examples :-

- He will come here.
- I searched everywhere.
- Put the scenery there.
- I met her yesterday.

3. When there are two or more adverbs after a verb, the normal order is — adverb of manner, adverb of place, adverb of time.

Examples :-

- She sang well at the concert. (well: adverb of manner/ at the concert: Adverb of place)
- We left hastily late in the evening.
- He spoke earnestly at the meeting last night.

4. Adverbs of frequency: always, never, often, rarely, usually, generally, and also some other adverbs such as almost, already, hardly, nearly, just, quite, etc. are normally put between the subject and the verb if the verb consists of only one word. If there is more than one word in the verb, they are put after the first word. They usually go in the middle of the sentences.

Examples :-

- His wife never cooks.
- He has never seen a lion.
- I have often told her to write neatly.
- We usually have dinner at nine.
- My cousin has just gone out.
- I quite agree with you.

5. If the verb 'am/are/is/was is the main verb in the sentence', then adverbs should be placed after the verb.

Examples :-

- I am never late for school.
- Priyanshi is always at home on holidays.
- We are just off from work.

6. The adverbs: always, already, usually, sometimes, etc. are usually put before an auxiliary or the single verb "be", when it is stressed.

Examples :-

- He always arrives early for meetings.
- But I already have written it.
- Sometimes she wore a woollen hat.
- I usually am free on Sundays.

7. The auxiliaries "have to" and "used to" prefer the adverb in front of them.

Examples :-

- I often have to go to school on foot.
- He always used to agree with me.

8. "Only" should be placed immediately before the word it modifies.

Examples :-

- I worked for only two hours on my laptop.
- He slept for only three hours yesterday night.

9. When there is an Auxiliary verb in the sentence then the Adverb should be used between the Auxiliary verb(i.e. Helping Verb) and the Main verb.

Example :-

- He had never seen a child with so much talent.

COMPARISON OF ADVERBS :-

Some adverbs, like adjectives, have three degrees of comparison, which are generally compared like adjectives.

For some adverbs, we form the comparative by adding 'er' and the superlative by adding 'est'.

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
Fast	Faster	Fastest
Long	Longer	Longest
Hard	Harder	Hardest
Soon	Sooner	Soonest
Quick	Quicker	Quickest

Adverbs ending in 'ly' form the comparative by adding "more" and superlative by "most".

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
Swiftly	More swiftly	Most swiftly
Skillfully	More Skillfully	Most Skillfully
Frankly	More frankly	Most Frankly
Honestly	More Honestly	Most Honestly

Some of the adverbs form their comparative and superlative degrees by taking in new words.

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
Badly	Worse	Worst
Well	Better	Best
Much	More	Most
Little	Less	Least
Near	Nearer	Nearest
Late	Later	Last
Far	Farther/Further	Farthest/furthest

SOME IMPORTANT ADVERBS :-

1. QUITE AND VERY

The meaning of quite depends on the adjective/adverb it is modifying. If it is a positive or good thing, then it means "even better" and if it is a negative idea, it means "a bit worse".

Very usually means "extremely". It does not mean just a little better or worse.

When 'quite' is placed in front of an adjective or adverb, it adds strength, but not as much strength as 'very'.

Examples :-

- She drives quite slow. (means - she drives not so fast).
- She drives quite fast. (means - she drives a bit or a little faster than the norm.)

2. TOO AND VERY

(i) "Too" means "more than required". It has a negative feeling in it, therefore it is used with unpleasantness.

Adjectives, like-too bad, too painful, too pain, too dull, etc. It can't be used like- too good, too happy etc.

Examples :-

- The movie was too scary.

Note :- We can use "Very" in place of "Too" with pleasant adjectives.

- The candidate is too smart. (It has a negative feeling in it.)
- The candidate is very smart. (It has a positive feeling to it.)

Examples :-

- It is very hot today. (not too hot).
- It is too hot to walk out. (not very hot).

Exception :- We can use the pleasant adjectives after "Too" in sentences that have the structure of "too ... to" in them

Example :-

- The vacation was too wonderful to forget.
- He is too polite to misbehave with anyone.

Note :- "Much too" is followed by Unpleasant Adjective, whereas "too much" is followed by Noun.

Example :-

- Her failure is much too painful for me.
- Her failure gives me too much pain.

3. FAIRLY AND RATHER

Fairly is used in a positive sense, so "Too" can not be used after "fairly".

Structure :- A + fairly + adjective + noun

"Rather" is used in a negative sense, so "Too" can be used after "Rather".

Structure:

Rather + a/an + adjective + noun

Note :- Pleasant activities are used after 'fairly' whereas unpleasant activities are used after 'rather', like fairly beautiful and rather difficult.

Example :-

- She gave a fairly good presentation at the conference. (pleasant quality)
- It was rather an uncomfortable situation. (unpleasant quality)

Note :- 'Would rather, had rather, rather than are used to express a preference.

Example :-

- I would rather stay at home than go out at night.

4. VERY AND MUCH

(a) "Very" qualifies present participles as well as adjectives and adverbs in the positive degree.

Examples :-

- This book is very interesting.
- She was very charming, always smiling and spreading joy wherever she went.

(b) "Much" qualifies past participles as well as adjectives and adverbs in the comparative degree.

Examples :-

- You left much earlier than usual.
- Hisar is very hotter in summer than Rajasthan. (Incorrect- 'Much' should be used in place of 'very'.)

5. ONLY

The following sentences show that the meaning of a sentence varies according to the placing of the adverb.

Examples :-

- I have only taken tea (and done nothing more).
- I have taken tea only (nothing except tea).
- I have only a son (and no other child).
- I have a son only (and no daughter).
- Geeta only agreed to accept the offer (and did nothing).
- Geeta agreed only to accept this offer (and not to do anything else).
- Geeta agreed to accept this offer only (and no other offer)
- Geeta agreed to accept only this offer (and nothing else).

'Only too' means 'very'.

'Only too' is used before an adjective to emphasize positive meaning.

Example :-

- I am only too glad to meet you.
- Your personality is only too charismatic so everyone loves you.

'None too' means 'not very'.

Example :-

- She was none too pleased with the quality of the service she received at the restaurant. (here, none too means "not very").

6. ENOUGH

"Enough" can be used as an adjective as well as an adverb. With "enough", the adjective and adverb used will be of positive degree.

"Enough" means just the opposite of "too". While too means beyond a proper limit, enough means that the proper limit has been reached but not exceeded.

Examples :-

- We have enough food for everyone.
- There was enough money to pay the bill.

The positioning of enough:

- She is intelligent enough to clear the exam. (When 'Enough' is used as an adverb, it will be used after the adjective)
- We have enough money to execute our project. (Enough is an adjective here and will be used before the noun)

7. SINCE

'Since' as an adverb is used in the following sense. It means an activity began in the past and is happening at the time of speaking too.

Example :-

- I saw the Taj five years ago and have remembered it ever since.
- They said that they had been careful ever since the robbery at home.

8. YET

1. Yet means till now.
2. It means till the time of speaking.
3. It is used in negative and interrogative sentences.

Do not use 'yet' with simple past tense as past tense refers to an action that was finished before the time of speaking. So, it can't be related to the present moment at the time of speaking.

Examples :-

- I am yet to get an appointment with the director at Pinnacle.
- Didn't you have your breakfast yet? (Incorrect)
- Haven't you taken your breakfast yet? (Correct)

SOME IMPORTANT RULES OF ADVERBS :-

1. With verbs relating to our senses (sight, smell, taste, hear and feel) an adjective is used and not an adverb.

Examples :-

- The food tastes badly. (Incorrect)
- The food tastes bad. (Correct)

- The child behaved badly at the party. (Correct- Adverb will be used as behave is not related to senses)
- It feels coldly. (Incorrect- Feel is related to the senses. So use cold.)
- He replied coldly to my question. (Correct)

With other verbs like “seem, like, look, prove, make, keep, grow, get, turn, be and become”, the adjective is used instead of the adverb.

Examples :-

- He proved it right.
- The milk has turned sour.
- It becomes hot after sunrise.
- The client got angry when his problems were not given due consideration.

2. At present/shortly : At present means right now. Shortly means soon. Shortly is used in the simple future tense.

Examples :-

- At present, the students are preparing for the exam.
- We will be back shortly after the commercial break.
- At present, he is talking to someone over the phone.

3. Early/Soon : Early and soon can be used as adjectives as well as adverbs.

Early means during the initial part of something.

Examples :-

- We launched the latest books of Pinnacle publications in early June.
- Many students come early to our center Pinnacle and sit here and study.

Soon means in the near future.

- We will soon launch many new books of Pinnacle Publications.
- The chief guest will arrive soon.
- I will visit you soon and update you about the latest developments.

4. For sentences beginning with an adverb.

The helping verb will be used after the adverb, not the subject. The subject will follow the helping verb.

The sequence will be - Adverb + Helping verb + subject.....

Examples :-

- Never I will help him financially. (Incorrect)
- Never will I help him financially. (Correct)
- No sooner had we heard the noise than we rushed to the spot. (Correct)
- No sooner had I closed my eyes than I fell asleep. (Correct)
- Scarcely had I reached the station when the train arrived. (Correct)

5. Too, as well, besides, in addition to, also are used in affirmative sentences.

Examples :-

- Besides playing soccer, she also enjoys reading.
- We conduct classroom classes and online classes as well.

6. Well/ good/ goodly :

Well (adjective) - in good health or condition

Well (adverb) - in a good manner

Good - something of high standard

Goodly - great in number or amount

Examples :-

- He donated goodly sums to charity.
- I was off colour yesterday but today I am well.
- She speaks fluently in english because her english is very good.

7. Just now/Just :

Just now is used at the end of the sentence.

Just now - at the moment in present continuous tense.

A moment ago in the simple past.

Just means exactly, only or simply.

A moment ago (Sub + has/ have + just + V₃).

Examples :-

- She arrived at the airport just now.
- I have just had my dinner.
- We are learning English just to clear the exam.

8. Directly/Direct :

Direct - a straight route (without stopping anywhere).

Directly - in a direct manner.

Examples :-

- He came to me direct from the airport.
- The students will be directly affected by the protest.

9. Very pleased - Happy :

Much pleased - Satisfied

Examples :-

- I am very pleased to meet your friend. (happy)
- We are much pleased with your performance. (satisfied)

10. In the case of the following adverbs or adverbial phrases, we use partial inversion.

At any cost, on no account, under no circumstances, by no means, only yesterday, only then, only when, only by V_{ing}, so + adverb of manner, hardly or scarcely, rarely, barely, seldom, seldom if ever, never, nowhere, often, more often, than not, no sooner, not until.

Examples :-

- Seldom if ever does she come to meet me.
- Only by working hard can we achieve success.
- More often than not did I go to temple.
- So calmly did she treat everybody.

11. Loud (adjective) - producing much noise

Aloud (adverb) - just enough to be heard

Loudly (adverb) - making a lot of noise

Examples :-

- The music at the party was too loud for my taste.
- She heard a loud bang and jumped in surprise.
- He laughed loudly at the joke.

Answers with Explanations :-Spot The Error

Sol.1.(b) Replace "none too" with "rather". 'Rather' is used with negative adjectives.

Sol.2.(b) Replace "very" with "too". To show the negative meaning of the sentence we use the following structure:
"too + adjective + to + V₁".

Sol.3.(a) Replace "fairly" with "rather". "Rather" is used for unpleasant or negative adjectives.

Sol.4.(c) Replace "good" with "well". We need an adverb here to show that the machine does not work properly.

Sol.5.(c) Replace "just" with "just now". When the work is being done at the moment, "just now" is used.

Sol.6.(d) no error.

Sol.7.(b) Replace "hardly" with "hard". "Hardly" is a negative word which means almost not at all so "hard" will be used.

Sol.8.(d) no error.

Sol.9.(b) Replace "lately" with "late". "Lately" means "recently". 'Late' means after the expected or usual time.

Sol.10.(c) Replace "highly" with "high". "Highly" means extremely or greatly. 'High' means above the ground.

Sol.11.(a) Replace "loud" with "loudly". "Loud" is an adjective, here we need an adverb "loudly".

Sol.12.(d) no error.

Sol.13.(b) Replace "freely" with "for free". "Freely" means without any restrictions while 'free' means without any cost or charges.

Sol.14.(b) Remove "not" from part (b). We do not use a negative statement after the verb 'deny'.

Sol.15.(a) Replace "fairly" with "rather". "Rather" is used for unpleasant or negative adjectives.

Sol.16.(a) Replace "much too" with "too much". "Much too" is followed by an adjective and "money" is a noun so "too much" will replace "much too".

Sol.17.(d) no error.

Sol.18.(a) Replace "directly" with "direct". "Directly" is an adverb. meaning in a direct manner but "direct" is an adjective and used for direct route.

Sol.19.(a) Replace "good" with "well". For good health or condition, the adjective "well" is used.

Sol.20.(a) Replace "he finished" with "did he finish". In sentences beginning with the adverb, the helping verb is used after the adverb and not the subject.

Sol.21.(a) Add "as" after nature. The words "define, treat, view, regard, describe, know, respect, portray, depict, select etc." take "as" with them.

Sol.22.(b) Replace "than" with "but". "Else" is paired with "but".

Sol.23.(a) Replace "soon" with "early". "Soon" means in the near future while "early" is used for something occurring before the expected or usual time.

Sol.24.(a) Remove "a" from part (a). The article "a" is used for a noun, not an adjective.

Sol.25.(d) no error.

Sol.26.(b) Remove "as" from part (b). "As" is not used with "call, appoint, make, choose, name, elect, think, consider, crown etc."

Sol.27.(d) no error.
