

VOICE

(Active / Passive)

VOICE : A voice is a form of verb which tells whether the subject of the sentence 'Performs the Action' or 'Receives the Action.'

To understand Active and Passive Voice we need to understand two things first.

1. What is a subject ?

The subject of a sentence is the noun or pronoun that is performing the action or is being described by the verb.

A subject shows -

- (a) what the sentence is about, or
- (b) who or what performs the action.

Example :-

- We are playing football.

In this sentence, the subject is the pronoun 'We' which is the 'doer' of 'an Action'.

- You are looking great in this dress.

In this sentence, the subject is the pronoun 'You', which is being described by the verb 'looking'.

2. What is an object ?

The object of a sentence is the noun or pronoun that receives the action performed by the subject. We simply add "what" or 'whom' to the verb and the answer we get is the object.

Example :-

- Ravi threw stones in the water. (Ravi is the subject. Threw is the verb. Threw what? The answer is stones, which is the object.)
Pronouns may also serve as objects.

- The Teacher gave him a warning. (The pronoun 'Him' is receiving something (a warning), so it's the Object of the sentence.

Active and Passive Voice

In "active voice", the subject performs the action denoted by the verb, and the object receives the action.

In "passive voice", the subject of the sentence is not the doer of the action. Instead, the action is done to the subject by someone or something else.

Note :- The passive voice is generally used with transitive verbs. Transitive verbs are those verbs that have an object.

General Sentence Structure of Voices:

Active Voice: Subject + Verb + Object

Passive Voice: Object + form of 'be' + 3rd form of Verb + by + Subject.

Where do we use passive voice ?

(a) When intentionally hiding the subject of a sentence.

Example :-

- Some vegetables have to be bought.

(b) When a passive voice better explains the thought of a sentence.

Example :-

- "Milk is sold in liters" is better than saying "shopkeepers sell milk in litres."

(c) When something is done upon someone. When something happened to someone.

Example :-

- You will be ruined if you continue gambling.

(d) When what happened is more important than who did it.

Example :-

- The strike was called off.

Example :-

- ### RULE 6 :- Rule related to prepositions

Example :-

- (Sometimes the preposition is used just before the doer as in the given sentence. Even in such sentences the preposition will be used.

With certain verbs, there are fixed prepositions. List of such verbs is given below.

RULE 4 :- Changing the voice of interrogative sentences

The interrogative sentences are divided into two types -

(i) Those that can be answered by a simple yes or no.

Such sentences begin with a helping verb or a modal- are, am, is, were, had, have, can, should etc.

Examples :- Can you drive a car ?

Is he cleaning his room ?

(ii) Those that can't be answered by a simple yes or no.

They begin with question words like why, when, how, which, whom etc.

Examples :- Why is he crying?

How did he come?

Let us take the first case of those interrogative sentences that have the answer as yes or no.

Active voice: Are they writing books ?

Simply answer the question in the positive. The answer is-

- They are writing books. (Now it becomes a simple sentence; change it to passive voice according to the basic rules)

- Books are being written by them. (Next step- Exchange the place of the subject with the helping verb. So, write "books" in place of "are" and "are" in place of "books", and use a question mark at the end.)

• Passive voice: Are books being written by them?

Let us now take the second case of those interrogative sentences where the question can't be answered in simple yes or no:

Why does she teach the slum children for free ?

Break it up (why + does she teach the slum children for free?)

If we separate the "wh" word from the rest of the sentence, what is left is simply a sentence of the type that has yes or no as an answer. Change it to passive voice and then simply add the "wh" word in the beginning.

(a) Why does she teach the slum children for free ? (Active)

Why are the slum children taught for free by her ? (Passive)

Similarly, let us take another example:

(b) Why is he selling his car ?

Step 1 :- Separate the questioning word from the rest of the sentence. Why + is he selling his car?

Step 2 :- Is he selling his car?

Answer the question.

He is selling his car.

Step 3 :- Change to passive voice.

Is his car being sold by him?

Last step :- Add the question word.

Why is his car being sold by him ?

If there is no object in the sentence of active voice and it begins with "what/how many/how much" +

What is done by you on Sunday? (Passive)
