

NARRATION

There are two ways to convey a message of a person, or the words spoken by a person to another person.

A. Direct Speech

B. Indirect Speech

(A) Direct Speech :

In direct speech, the original words of a person are narrated (no change is made) and are enclosed in quotation marks.

(B) Indirect Speech :

On the other hand, in indirect speech some changes are made in the original words of the person because these words have been uttered in the past so the tense will change accordingly and pronouns may also be changed accordingly.

In Indirect speech the statement of the person is not enclosed in quotation marks, the word "that" may be used before the statement to show that it is indirect speech.

Direct Speech : Ravi said, "I will give you a pen".

Indirect Speech : Ravi said that he would give me a pen.

Reporting verb : The verb in the first part of a sentence, (i.e. he said, she said, he says, they said, she says), before the statement of a person in the sentence is called reporting verb.

Reported Speech : The second part of indirect speech in which something has been told by a person (which is enclosed in quotation marks in direct speech) is called reported speech.

Direct Speech	Indirect Speech	Tone of the Sentence
Say says said say to says to said to	Say/says/said/tell/tells/told	Assertive sentence
	Ask/enquire/want to know	Interrogative sentence
	Suggest /request/order	Imperative sentence
	Pray/wish/curse/bless	Optative sentence
	Exclaim with joy/sorrow	Exclamatory sentence
